KERNER'S
GREAT
Epidermic Regenerator,
THE GREAT
EXTERNAL REMEDY,

For Cleansing and Removing all Diseases of the Skin, as Clear as Water, and can be used with Perfect Safety.

In offering this Preparation to the public, the Proprietor does so with the full assurance of its success when used and applied according to directions. It is no ephemeral thing, having its birth one day and meeting its death the next, but has for four years, without any laudation through the Press, or any desire on the part of the Proprietor to make it a pecuniary emolument, stood the test, under the experience of many of the most respectable citizens of our City and State. The Proprietor having distributed it gratuitously for the last four years among many Charitable Institutions, and to Individuals, has at the earnest solicitation of many who have been benefited by it, consented to place it before the public.

THE GREAT EPIDERMIC REGENERATOR,

For Cleansing and Removing all Diseases of the Skin.

It is the most wonderful Medicine known for the Eradication of all the various Diseases of the Skin. It not only removes all imperfections, but gives that smooth clearness and beauty to the complexion so much to be desired.

IT CURES AND REMOVES:

Daily Session from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M., the last hour of which is employed, with the aid of Teachers, in the preparation of the most difficult lessons, for the following day, in order to prevent Parents from being troubled at home by repeated and necessary questions on the part of their sons; the Principal being fully aware that children are sent to school to be taught, and not merely to be heard recite.

The course of instruction is thorough and complete. Particular attention is given to the French and German Languages, the practical knowledge of which latter is now almost indispensable with the thorough business man.

PREFACE.

The Publisher of the BALTIMORE CITY DIRECTORY herewith presents to the citizens of Baltimore his New Edition for 1870. The increase of names they will find has been large; there being 83,500 in the work, or 10,500 more than in the edition of 1869. Increase of Whites 11½ per cent., of Colored 25 per cent.; of Whites and Colored, 14 per cent. Taking the ratio of 25 per cent. of the population as being thus embraced, the estimate is arrived at of 334,000 for the entire residents of our city.

The addition to the business of our city is fully commensurate with the increase of our numbers, and the opening of additional railroads, the establishment of lines of steamers, and other enterprizes, conducive to our commercial prosperity, have wrought, are working, and will continue to effect changes so great as to be astounding, and so beneficial as to afford ground for congratulation. The marked improvement in the style and architecture of our buildings, public and private, elicits the attention of all beholders—of the resident citizen as well as of the temporarily sojourning stranger.

But, we are yet behind some of our sister cities in our modes of designating places of abode and of business: the opening of new, and the extension and widening of old streets, aggravate the necessity, heretofore existing, for a more methodical, uniform and accurate method of numbering our houses. The process of preparing a Directory exhibits, glaringly, the defect alluded to; and, inasmuch as the work of renumbering must be resorted to, inevitably, the occasion is presented fairly for considering the most efficient mode of doing that work; experience establishes the superiority of the Decimal system above any other hitherto tried; and every consideration of expediency and convenience dictates an early resort to that system. The Consecutive plan involves ever recurring changes, which serves but to derange and confuse; and as time rolls on, and improvements multiply, that confusion becomes more obvious, more perplexing, and needlessly adds to the labors of the municipal authorities, as well as to the difficulty found by private individuals in exploring our streets. All our streets, Baltimore street not excepted, exhibit duplicate and triplicate numbers, and wanting numbers.

To the advantages of Advertising, our citizens, even at this day, are not fully alive; perhaps no one proof of this assertion can be adduced, more perceptible, than that afforded by a comparison of Directories of different cities of our land; the Directory of San Francisco of 1870 comprises 250 pp. of advertisements; that of Boston 350 pp.—inserted by people who cannot be suspected of a lack of shrewdness, or want of perception, as to the things that serve as aids to their business success. The Baltimore Directory dwindles down to 32 pp. and this with a population exceeding that of Boston, and probably doubling that of San Francisco, although indefatigable efforts by the canvassers have been made, even in some degree to annoyance, to place our Directory, in this feature, in a less unfavorable point of comparison.

To every class of our citizens is due our cordial thanks for their prompt and courteous responses to the inquiries of our canvassers, and tendering to our patrons a grateful acknowledgment of their favors and our congratulations at the bright prospects of the future,

I am, resp'y, the public's obed't serv't.
